Help Us Save the Six Majestic Beech Trees in Book Hill Park

Of the six mature American beech trees in the park, the largest is an estimated 80 years old. Beeches are considered grand, historic trees as they can live 300 to 400 years. Beech Leaf Disease is decimating beech trees on the East Coast. Losing the beech trees would dramatically alter the appearance and ecosystem of Book Hill Park. Please help us to raise $6,000 to treat the trees and protect them from this disease.
